Darlene’s first interview went well.

She had a good interview at a place where Caleb might even get a job. Things are looking really good for now. Finished the audio editing for Friday Forum. I’m now about to dive into the David Uth talks.

Last night was really stormy and I woke up late. A little fatigued from the past few days. Tomorrow I begin my trek to Bogalusa, probable staying at my Mark’s place with Caleb. Praying for some good father/son time
