

God Approaching

You'll know Him when you see Him.

He carries the likeness of no mortal man.

He will turn you upside down and shake you until your pockets no longer jingle.

He will turn the heat up until meltdown occurs.

He can swallow galaxies.

He can stand on the hairs of your thumb.

He will take your personal certainties and make them uncertain.

He will take the earthly securities and make them insecure.

He will do all this for His own reasons

They are His and He won't tell.

Not today.

Fearing Him is glorious.

He smells the fear as worthy sacrifice.

When He comes, don't hide or run.

Die and He will roll the stone from your lifeless resting place.
