

Wednesday Night Minutia

Business meeting was tonight and I had some amazing crawfish étouffée at the church. I dropped off some Wendy's to Mom and Dad.

Today we received some hard news on Jon's cancer. It seems to have progressed to his jawbone. Praying for a miracle.

Darlene is coming in tomorrow night and I'm taking Friday off. We'll spend the next three nights at Tall Timbers. We'll do the minister's wives conference Friday night and Saturday. The rest of the time we'll just relax.
